Purchasing a home is one of the biggest events in a person's life. My background and experience as a professional home builder spans over thirty years and I can guarantee that you will receive superb service if you choose Clear Vision for your home inspection.

My inspection is comprehensive and offers general information and locations of vital components of the home. My inspection fee is not only reasonable, but well worth your investment when considering the financial obligation in purchasing a home.

I look forward to meeting each of my clients personally and I'm always available to answer any questions. I look forward to hearing from you and offering you excellent service.

Sincerely,
Rick Seideman
